
Subject: Re: [railML3] Specific commands and indications of signal box user interface

Posted by Joerg von Lingen on Sat, 13 Jun 2020 12:52:29 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Thanks Heidrun for your input.

I support the idea of having the possibility to define the commands and indications used for control of interlocking. However, I am sceptic on the use of arbitrary strings for specific definitions. This may make data interchange more complex and may cause failures due to different writings.

Best regards,
Joerg v. Lingen - Rollingstock Coordinator
