Dear Torben,
Dear all,

For @type = "project", should the area be linked with a <project> in some way? If so, do you prefer (A) that the <project> lists its <relatedArea>(s) or (B) that each area has a @projectRef (or multiple <projectRef>s if that is an actual use case)? To me, option A seems most in line with the proposed implementation of <project>.

Best regards,
Thomas
